COOKIES AND OTHER TECHNICAL INFORMATION

Cookies are small text files that the sites you visit send to the navigation device used by the user (usually a browser). They are stored in the corresponding browser folder while the user is intent on visiting a website, to be re-transmitted to the same sites on subsequent visits.

They are used for the purpose of improving navigation, saving the user preferences already entered (username, password and the like), tracking the tastes and preferences of the user, allowing them to manage targeted marketing initiatives or the provision of services connected to the activities of the Data Controller as newsletters, service communications on the Site etc.

If limitations are placed on their use, these will have an effect on the usability of the site's contents during the consultation. It is always possible for the user to preventively block or remove the browser cache, but such actions could cause an incomplete use of the services offered by the web application.

The Website www.montitrentini.com uses the following types of cookies:

Technical cookies

They are indispensable cookies in order to allow browsing and use all the features of the Site. These cookies do not collect information that allows the user to be identified. If you disable, the use of the contents of the Site could be compromised and be impossible or strongly limited.

Session cookies

This is a technical cookie that stores the user's choices within the site that is deleted once they leave the site. They are strictly limited to the transmission of session identifiers (consisting of random numbers generated by the server) necessary to allow a safe and efficient exploration of the site.

The Website www.montitrentini.com does not use third-party profiling cookies

They are the cookies used by third parties to track the user's navigation on the network and create profiles on his tastes, habits, choices, etc. With these cookies advertising messages can be transmitted to the user's terminal in line with the preferences already shown by the same user while browsing online.

Browser settings on the use of Cookies

The user may or may not allow cookies to be installed on his device (computer). However, if the use of cookies is disabled, some features of our site may not be available and available to the user. The settings relating to this choice can be verified and modified using the browser configuration parameters used.
